MONDAY AFTERNOON.....October 9 The difficulty of getting paper at this time for the very large edition the favor of our patrons compels us to publish, which results in a great measure from the tco great scarcity of water this summer and fall to run the mills, induces us to make a temporary change in the * appearance of the Star. Our paper will resume its late appearance so soon as the fall rains will enable us to lay in sufficient stock to be Secure against the casualities of the existing scarcity of paper. Nearly all the papers of Targe circulation at the North have been compelled to adopt the same course.

SPIRIT OF THE MORNING PRESS. The Union draws a striking parallel between the present condition of the Northern and Southern popular mind, showing that while at the South all is quiet, calmness and contentment, a whirlwind of fanaticism and bigotry upon questions connected with reli gion, morals and politics, is sweeping over the North. Abolitionism and Know Nothingism according to the Union, is running the pre viously half daft North quite crazy. The editor comments in scorching terms upon the fact, as he alleges, that the man Judson, better known as Ned Buntline, than whom a more noteriously infamous man in his personal character is not living, is the projector and chief spirit of the new secret political organad isation. He (the editor) argues that the fact that Judson can suddenly become so important political personage in our land, should be sufficient to alarm and arouse all true friends of our constitution and institutions. The Intelligencer is awful on the Union this morning, commenting on the latter's in dignation because he chose to be especially civil to Mr. Senator Sumner recently. The editor says:

"The Union may be very right in holding that no terms are too offensive to be employed towards Abolitionists; and, if we were the conductors of a Government organ, we might think so too; but, as our taste lies in a different way, the Union is too good a logician to blame us for a difference in that. Abolition and even Preesoil politicians are as little to our liking as they can be to that of the Union; but we will not manifest our disapprobation of them by virulent abuse. We do not even call the Union hard names, and if we can abstain from their use in regard to it, we could hardly be parconed for using them towards anything

The editor further argues that the skirts of the Whige are clear of having put the "brazen faced abolitionist" in the Senate, that having salbeen dene, he alleges, by the Democrats in trecesition with the Free Soilers.

3. The Intelligencer also exposes the nonsensi-30 dal point to which some of the ultra northern Democrats are urging the "Popular sover bigntes" doctrine by quoting a tom fool reso fution recently adopted in the Massachusetts Demogratic State Convention, wherein it is asserted that-The Constitution recognises the principle of self-government and the power of the people, in whatever bond united with each other, Territory, to control their own institutions; that on this principle alone the colonies en tered upon the struggle for independence the Confederation was established, and the Federal Constitution adopted." The Sentinel, commenting on the fact that

"Jack Hale" is spouting over the North fachrymose eulogies on the virtues of the Missouri compromise, quotes his speeches delivered a year or two since in the Senate, wherein he took most violent grounds against that same measure, holding up to scorn all from the North who originally voted for it.

EXCITEMENT IN BALTINOBE. -The coming Mayoralty election creates great excitement at Baltimore. The Democrats are straining every nerve te bring out the full vote of city. All kinds of stories are being circulated about the respective candidates and all sorts of estimates made as to the result of the election. The Baltimore American in noticing the asspect of the city yesterday says :

"There was one thing, however, calculated to make a bad impression upon the minds of the strangers who are sojourning in our midst, and that was an immense crowd which gathered at the corner of South and Baltimore streets, at an early hour in the morning, and there continued until night, for the discussion of political subjects. So great was the crowd that ladies were obliged to go into the street. it being almost impossible to force a passage through the throng. This, however, will not soon be the case again, as the cause will have disappeared before another Sabbath day comes PLAIN TALK .- The Philadelphia Sun, in notice "to correspondents" says: "We are flooded with articles from friends on various topics of interest, connected with the pending election. We must decline them all in a batch. We advocate our principles in our own way to the best of our ability, and have no room for ed the opinions of others, however well they may be expressed. Besides this, our friends have a habit of paying for their communications as advertisements in other papers and asking their gratuitous insertion in the Sun. This is to what they call "supporting a paper." We think it poer encouragement, and, therefore, fight our battles on our own book.

It is stated by a gentleman lately returned from Canada, that the bears, driven from the woods and back places by want of food, have been unusually numerous in the Tol open fields. One farmer lost twenty-nine cat de carried off by them, and others have suf fered in like manner, though not to such an extent. A crusade against these marauders was made, and about a dozen were shot. One weighing about two hundred pounds was found caught in the sluice way of the railroad at Sherbook, and was forthwith killed.

WASHINGTON NEWS AND GOSSIP. Coal and Cod Fish .- The lucid and able pinion of Attorney General Cushing as to the interpretation of the Elgin-Marcy treaty, appears to satisfy the public generally—even those disposed to find fault We notice one New York print now assails the President and Secretary of State for the reference of so plain a question to the Attorney General; when a fortnight since that identical print denounced the Secretary of the Treasury for his circular taking the same view that Mr. Cushing does. Rumor says that the Nova Scotians and New Brunswickers are now asking of the Administration, through Mr Crampton, the British Envoy, for leave to enter their fish and coal in the ports of the United States, before the Provincial ports are closed by ice, without payment of the duties in cash, as now required by law, and upon their giving bonds payable in March next in case the necessary laws are not passed by the Legislatures of New Brunswick and Nova Scotia, to give the reciprocity clauses of the treaty full effect, and in case the Congress of the United States does not release the duties. The colony of Prince Edward Island, it is understood, has enacted the necessary laws. We presume the favor asked cannot be granted by the Executive of the United States. It possesses no power to dispense with the revenue laws, ex mero motu, and without the previous legislation of Congress giving such authority. The colonists can now enter their cod fish, mackerel, coal, &c., and place them in warehouse till the treaty is fully consumnated. We imagine this is all that can be It is rumored also that the Blue-noses and Nova Scotians desire that in case the duties on their fish and coal cannot be released, the duties on American fish of British catching-. e., fish taken by colonists on our coasts, un der the privilege granted by the treaty-be relinquished. We presume this cannot be done till the treaty is fully carried out by the legislation of all the colonies, and of the British Parliament, as stipulated in the treaty. The question is one of revenue simply-the modification of the tariff of all the colonies to conform to the treaty. The treaty, as framed on this subject was agreed to, we learn, in the terms proposed by the British negoti ators. The colonies claimed that the power of regulating their tariff devolved exclusively on their own local legislatures. The Bri ish Government conceded this point, subject to its right of revision by general law; and hence the provision is coupled with the reservation

British Parliament. As to the cod and mackerel fisheries, we believe all loyal colonists freely concede that the Colonial Governments, so long as the colonies are subject to and dependent upon the crown of Great Britain, have no control over them. The Imperial Government of Great Britain has the exclusive sovereignty and control over them, and can dispose of them, as it sees fit. without asking the consent of the colonies.

requiring the superadded legislation of the Imperial Parliament. They should have look ed to the difficulties now said to have arisen as to the trouble and expense and delay of convening all the local legislatures, and then also waiting for the confirmatory action of the

The question as to the admission, free of duty, of American fish of British catching, is, we presume, decided by the opinion of the Attorney General. This Government is one of imited and restricted powers. The Executive cannot dispense with or suspend any law or treaty, unless authorized by Congress; and, on the contrary, he is to see "the laws faithfully executed." The whole matter is one of law and of constitutional power, not of comity If the case was different, we doubt not the indulgence and favor sought by our neighbors would be freely granted, as we could afford it. Our shrewd northern merchants have made arrangements with respect to their trade and fishing, founded upon the treaty and their knowledge of what would occur. It would be unjust to them to grant the indulgence sought in violation of the plain terms of the treaty.

The New York Election .- The Herald, in speculating over prospects in the coming New York State election, estimates that the vote of the State is now about 550,000, of which 265,-000 are of all the different wings of the Whig party, including the Abolitionists of all degrees, and the balance-285,000-of all the different wings of the Democratic party. The same journal says that 100,000 of the 115,000 who are, in New York, claimed to be identified with the Know-Nothing organization, are Whigs. The Herald urges the Know-Nothings to drop their regularly-nominated candidate and rally on Bronson, on the ground that they cannot possibly elect him, (Ullman.) even though he should receive 25,000 Silver-Grey Whig votes, not identified with the Know-Nothings. The editor argues that if the Know-Nothings will support Brenson, in whose behalf strenuous efforts to secure their nomination were made, the Hards will stick to him to a man, and thus elect him by their aid. It strikes us that the Herald cannot manage the Know-Nothings so as to coax them to go for its candidate; and that even if it could do so, Bronson cannot be elected. Nearly one half of the Hard strength in the State was the Irish, and a portion of the German Democratic vote. The fact that Bronson was notoriously seeking, through his friends, the Know-Nothing nomination, insures this half the Hard strength against him. The native-born Hards of the interior are greatly attached (personally) to Gov. Seymour, whose friends feel very sure that they will rally upon him in great strength The ultra Anti Maine-law vote of the State was also principally Hard. All the world knows that now that interest will not touch Bronson with a fifty-foot pole. Seymour is its candidate-every Whig, even in the city of cess of the Maine Law, being now ranged ride with snother young man and William felt among Seymour's most active supporters. The tree in full sight from the road by which he ation of that class of the Whigs to elect Seymour. One fourth of the German vote of the State was Sewardish up to the organization of the Know-Nothing party, which has already driven to the support of Seymour all the German Whigs, in a body; every German paper in New York State-Whig up to a month or so ago-being now out for Seymour.

> We believe that Ullman will poll the Know Nothing strength to within 15,000 of what they claim to be their vote. That is, 100,000-6,000 Democratic Know Nothings, and 69,000 Whig Know Nothings, with 25,000 Silver Greys, who are not Know Nothings. We believe that Seymour, instead of Bronson, will get more than half what was lately the Hard vote, the ultra anti-Know Nothing-Irish and German vote of that wing-the liquor trade interest in it, and thousands of Native born Hards in the interior, with whom, as before German) Whig vote, and the ultra Maine law Whig vote, in addition to the Soft vote proper. Of the latter, Nebraska, Maine law and Know Nothingism combined, may together deprive him of possibly 15,000 votes which were given to him on his first election. However, the combinations explained above, will, we think, certainly enable him to beat Clark out of sight. Clark is now merely the higher law candidate, being supported, since Ullman's nomination, only by the ultra Free Soil, anti-Fugitive Slave Law, Abolitionist, Maine Law, Woman's Rights and other ismatically inclined people.

The Know Nothing Victory.-We have at length got at the truth of the Know Nothing victory, reported by telegraph originally to have occurred at Louisville, on Saturday, the 30th ult. It did occur at Nashville, although the papers of that city, of the 30th ult., of both political parties, tailed to contain a single word from which it could be learned that an election was to come off there on that or any other day. It seems that both the candidates were Democrats, though the Whigs have an average majority of six hundred and fifty there. Neither candidate received a Democratic or Whig nomination. Shephard, the person elected, declined to be a cardidate, though he was voted for by most of the Democrats. and, unexpectedly to himself, by the Know Nothings. Our informant is an intelligent gentleman, very recently from Nashville, who says that he (Shephard) repudiates the favor of the Know Nothing party, and declares that he has no sympathy for them. We have every reason to believe that these facts are to be

There she is expected to take in Mr. Fabens, Commercial Agent, and Charge Wheeler and family, who are to proceed in her at least as far as Pensacola, where it is no expected they will be transferred to the frigate Columbia, the flag ship of the Gulf squadron, in which they will proceed to San Juan, the frigate to remain there as long as may be necessary. The Princeton, it is now understood, is in a condition to do duty, and, it is thought, is already under orders to form a part of the Gulf squadron.

News of the sailing of the Independence (razee) from New York, to join the Pacific squadron, is also momentarily expected in Washington.

News from Fort Laramie.-We understand that the War Department have information from Fort Laramie, a week or two later than the last advices, from which it is ascertained that the total number of troops destroyed in the late Indian affair in that neighborhood was 31, not 21 as originally reported. The Indians had not subsequently made any demonstration against the post, and none was appre-

The Graham Trial.

The New York Heral of yesterday, (Sunday, in speaking of the trial of Graham for the murder of Loring, says:

The trial of Dr. Graham, charged with the homicide of Col. Loring, at the St. Nicholas Hotel, in this city, on the 2d of August last, has now occupied the Court of Oyer and Terminer for five days, and is still pending before the jury, to whom the evidence will be summed up on Monday morning. The proceedings of Saturday were opened by a discussion upon a paragraph which appeared in a morning pa per, charging, upon the authority of "a correspondent," that one of the jurors empannelled to try the cause was a cousin of the wife of Dr. Graham. After considerable argument the Judge said if there was any motion offered on the subject, and an application made on affidavit, he would entertain it, but upon a mere newspaper paragraph he could make no comment, nor did he feel authorized to question the juror as to the accuracy or falsity of the allegation. No motion being made, the matter was dropped, after an ineffectual effort on the part of the juror, (not the one alluded to.) to make some observations to the Court on the sarangeness of the accusation. The de fence then proceeded to examine a number of witnesses, who deposed that it was an invariable custom of Dr. Graham to carry the wea pon in question, or some other stick, and that the cane was the vade mecum of the defendant. who was never seen without his hat and stick. except at meal times. Further evidence was offered by the defence to show the irrascibility of the deceased. This offer of testimony the Court excluded, but noted it on the minutes. and counsel for the defence excepted. Dr. J M. Carnochan was then examined and gave very important surgical testimony. The great er part of the day, however, was occupied in the argument of the several offers of counsel and at the rising of the Court it was understood

GEORGETOWN CORRESPONDENCE.

GEORGETOWN, October 9, 1854. The son of Mr. George Craig, whose hand was injured by the premature discharge of a gun, as noticed in the Star some days since died last night with the tautanus, which was superinduced by old gathering into the wound, which did not at first appear at all dangerous. This is another solemn warning to the multitude of boys who may daily be seen in the wood contiguous to our city gunning.

It will be seen by a notice under the head of obituaries, that Captain Jabes Travers, for many years a wood merchant in our city, : man universally respected and esteemed by those who knew him, died yesterday at his residence near the Washington Brewery.

In our notice of the sudden death of Mr Darnel, at Mrs. Lang's Hotel on Friday last. it should have been Francis, instead of Fielder.

We thought there was something wrong in the report of sale of stock of the Corporation of Georgetown, first published in the Baltimore Sun and afterwards in the Star. When we first saw it we could not see how it was possible that the stock of a city corporation. which never fails to meet the interest upon its stocks promptly, could decline in value in a few months from 101 to 92 sents. The monetary affairs, so far as we can learn, are in a very healthy condition, and we doubt not that the general assessment, which will be had next year, will show an increase in the value of taxable property in our city of at least one million of dollars. This increase, at the maximum rate of taxation, will not only afford a sum amply sufficient to meet the interest and current expenses, but leave a surplus towards the liquidation of our funded debt.

As we have heard of considerable cholera morbus and diarrhees about, we would advise our citizens to use considerable caution in procuring vegetables in our market. It is generally known that many of the vegetables offered there for sale is purchased in the Washington markets, and often kept over some three or four days, which must render them wholly unfit for food.

We learn from boatmen, who have just reached our city, that a large break occurred upon our Canal near the Point of Rocks, on Friday last, which interrupts navigation upon it for some eight or ten days. The weather continues clear, mild, and pleasant. Business brisk, and our city very
